FROM THE RABBI'S DESK

Rabbi Carla Freedman

Recently, I was asked during a round of “ask the rabbi” at a Friday evening service, to define the words, “oneg Shabbat”. The meaning is “delight of the Sabbath”.

I reminded those present that our ancestors...grandparents and further back...probably did not have much by way of material wealth. Accordingly, it was the custom to save all the best things...food, clothes, etc... for Shabbat. During the week, they ate coarse dark bread, because they had to pay more money to the miller to grind their grain into soft white flour, which they did for challah for Shabbat. During the week, they rarely ate meat, but if they could afford to, they served it on Shabbat. So when Shabbat came, it was an occasion of real delight. The questioner then said that this seems to place all the emphasis on food and not on the spiritual elements of Shabbat.

We who have more than plenty for every meal cannot possibly imagine the joy, the delight, our ancestors would have felt at the “riches” they experienced on Shabbat. It gave them something to look forward to, through the long days of hard work and deprivation. Having the time, on Shabbat, to savor the fine braided bread, the meat, and other goodies, must have felt like an enormous gift.

A Jew is supposed to pray three times a day, and can do so alone if necessary. Even in the shtetls, Jews assembled on Mondays and Thursdays for the morning minyan before they went to work, for a quick service that included a Torah reading. But on Shabbat, they could take the service more slowly, they could sing the special melodies for Shabbat, they could appreciate the hazzan's leadership of the prayers, and they could listen eagerly and carefully to the rabbi's words of guidance and, hopefully, wisdom. In this too there was delight.

On Shabbat afternoon, they could enjoy a nap, unheard of during a week day. They could visit with family, friends, neighbours, something that could not happen on a work day, with its hectic pace and its serious obligations.

So all of Shabbat was a delight. When we speak of Oneg Shabbat, however, we usually refer to the table loaded with desserts, even though these things are available to us all the time, if we want them. Perhaps because we know we shouldn't eat such rich foods, we allow ourselves this treat on Friday evenings. But is it part of the larger picture of the “delight of the Sabbath”?

It may be an especially challenging thing for people who don't work, to make Shabbat a day that is different from all other days. I suggest that we need to find ways to invest all of the day, from sundown Friday to sundown Saturday, with real delight, so that Shabbat can do its part to nurture us.

And that should start with our Shabbat evening services. To me, that means praying without rushing, singing together rather than just reading the prayers (when else do we get to sing together?) and doing so with lightness of heart and joy of spirit. The tone of Shabbat services should be warm, joyful and uplifting. The High Holy Days are serious and somber, but Shabbat should not be like that. So there can be moments of lightness, which support and enrich the beauty of the liturgy and the importance of the Torah service.

How many ways can we communicate our delight in the Sabbath? That's the challenge. It's not just on the table in the Social Hall. Shabbat delight is a state of mind, an attitude, a point of view.

We are very lucky to have a whole day of delight every week. Let's make the most of it.

President's Message Joanne Sudman

Winston Churchill once said: "You make a living by what you get. You make a life by what you give."

We all know that our home here at Beth Israel could not, would not, survive if it were not for those who volunteer to be on the board of directors, the men's club and sisterhood. The volunteers who serve on all of the committees; the volunteers who step forward when we have an emergency like Irma clean up; the volunteers who put up, take down and decorate the Sukkah; the volunteers who take Bima honors on Shabbat and during the High Holy Days; the volunteers who are always behind the scenes doing something to make our home a better place. So to all of you I give you my heartfelt thanks. YOU make Beth Israel the wonderful congregation it is. A very special thank you to members of the Board who have stepped down from their duties: Sam Zians for co-chairing the Ritual Committee; Sam and Sandy were here less than 3 months when they said they would help us when our former Ritual chairperson suddenly resigned; Judy Rodman for helping Marlene Spiegel with all of the responsibilities of the Membership Committee and revitalizing the Chavurah program; Paul Spiegel for leading our fund raising efforts with Beattlemania, Jazz Concert and more; Delyse Axinn, former president, who has never said no to Beth Israel, for taking over Communications when illness required Alison Levine to resign. A very special thank you to Robin Kitzmiller, who for too many years to count, has faithfully put together our Shalom News whether she was here in SCC or wandering around Canada, Alaska, or the US mainland. Todah Rabah to all of you. We all will remember the impact Micki Groper had on us with her beautiful singing voice, enthusiasm, and embracing neshama.

Now I want to challenge those who may not yet have thought about volunteering; we have needs for people who can make phone calls, manage a computer, are willing to help with keeping our building safe and secure. Needs for people who would like to serve on the Program and Fund raising committees, and who would be ushers on a Friday night. None of these jobs are huge commitments; some only 20 minutes a month. Think about giving back; think about "You make a living by what you get. You make a life by what you give."

We have been busy this year and have made some changes: I hope you have all noticed the additional sound baffles in the social hall, new safety doors entering the building, a new sound system, the new window treatments in the social hall, and soon we will have new chairs here in the sanctuary. These improvements were all possible with monies that were donated to the congregation, with a little help from our dedicated fund. When we realized we were unable to remodel, the Board made a wish list of improvements and we are working to complete that list. We instituted a Special Volunteer program where we have and will continue to honor members of the congregation who go beyond the norm to make our spiritual home comforting to all. The recipients to date are Herb Cashvan, Delyse Axinn, and Bob Cobe. And finally the Board of Directors made a commitment for our temple to create a Legacy Fund that will ensure the future of Beth Israel in Sun City Center; you will be hearing more about the Beth Israel Jewish Congregation of Sun City Center Legacy Fund early next year.

We have had several people working in our kitchen on Friday nights. Cece had to leave to take care of her new grandchild. Otty had to leave because of health reasons. Now Linda and Frank Oddo have graciously committed to help us. We are blessed to have them but I want to remind you that we need to act as we would at home: clean off your tables, push in your chairs, offer to help wipe off tables. Linda and Frank's major responsibilities are cleaning up in the kitchen.

I would be remiss if I did not publically thank Rabbi Carla for all that she has done for us. Her classes have led many of us on a path of questioning, observation, and renewal of personal feelings and understanding of our heritage; her humor has brought some of us to tears from laughing so hard; and her kindness has touched our hearts deeply. She not only comforts those of us in need of healing and counselling, but she visits and talks to nonmembers in need as she finds them in the various rehab centers and hospitals. Rabbi Carla, todah rabah. And to Cantor Glenn who has blessed us with his beautiful voice; thank you for making our services filled with uplifting ruach.

I would like to end my remarks today with a true story that happened to me earlier this month. I was at Joell's, the kosher deli in St. Petersburg, buying some things when Ellen, Joel, and Sharon, the owners, independently told me about their experiences here at Beth Israel when they came for the Kugel cookoff. Ellen said "I was excited and nervous about coming but I knew that you and Sam would be there and I would be fine; but you were out of town. It didn't matter though, everyone was so warm and welcoming." Joel said he "was overwhelmed by the kindness he was shown and the feeling that he was part of the family." Sharon shared that "no other congregation had ever asked them to come to speak and that was so very special, but beyond that everyone acted as if we were part of the congregation." Sharon also told me that when she commented on someone's shoes the congregant offered to take off the shoe so Sharon could try it on. And lastly Sharon shared that on the way home they were filled with such "warm fuzzies" and good feelings. She will never forget her experience with our family here at Beth Israel.

I can't begin to tell you how proud I was and am to be president of this congregation. My first goal as your president was to make this congregation a home with audacious hospitality; where we take care of each other; welcome the newcomer and the stranger. This experience with Joel, Ellen, and Sharon exemplifies who and what we stand for and I say to each and everyone of you "Todah Rabah."

Heart to heart,
Joanne

Special Volunteer: Ronni Neckes

The quote: "A strong woman looks a challenge in the eye and then winks at it" describes our next "SPECIAL VOLUNTEER" Ronni Neckes. Ronni's determination began to shine while raising her two children. She took college classes at night until they both had graduated high school and then she entered college graduating in 1998. After graduating she began "her career" of helping others when she was a teaching assistant in a classroom with special needs children. Over the years, she has had her own Bookkeeping business, worked as an office manager and as an Admissions advisor for Johnson and Wales College. In each of these careers Ronni was always looking to help someone else. When her daughter needed a nanny for Ronni's first grandson, she retired from Johnson and Wales and "left Mark" for one year to care for her grandson; again always thinking of someone else.

When Ronni and Mark joined Beth Israel four years ago she immediately stepped forward helping others. Whether it be for Sisterhood or Temple, you will find Ronni behind the scenes quietly organizing, cleaning, supporting, or participating in every event. Her quietness has not gone unnoticed. Ronni says "I know I can't be a leader, but I can be a helper." So please say thank you to our next SPECIAL VOLUNTEER, Ronni Neckes, who never has a problem helping you when you want to be the leader.

Jewish organizations in the community are asked to nominate a woman who exemplifies the mission of their organization through her leadership and commitment. Awarded annually the 'Women of Distinction' Program honors exemplary volunteerism and leadership.

Congratulations to Sandy Zians, Beth Israel's Woman of Distinction 2017, who was honored on November 30th. Sandy has been active in Jewish life for over 50 years. She was involved in many organizations in various capacities in Youngstown, Ohio prior to her family's relocation to Tampa three years ago. She served as President of the local and district Hadassah chapter, was a board member of the Jewish Community Center, Jewish society, serving as Chairman of the Relay for Life and Co-chair of the American Cancer Center Cattle Barron's Ball.

At the age of 60, Sandy became a Bat Mitzvah and within her synagogue, El Emeth Temple, served as President from 2012-2014 and Funds Vice President of the Sisterhood.

After moving to Tampa, she immediately assumed the position of Ritual Co-chair alongside her husband Sam. She organizes religious activities with grace and charm and is an asset to the Sisterhood and synagogue. Sandra and her husband have four children and six grandchildren.

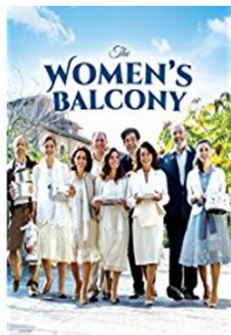

Beth Israel has a "twofer" as Joanne Sudman was honored by TOP Jewish Foundation as their Woman of Distinction 2017. Joanne has dedicated her life to helping others as a community volunteer and through her professional work as a Speech-language Pathologist of 43 years. Her affinity for Jewish causes began in Cincinnati, where she took on a myriad of leadership roles. Joanne was the Religious School Chair at Temple Shalom, membership Chair and a member of the temple's Board of Directors. From 1980-1984, she was President of the Council for Soviet Jewry and in this role travelled to the Soviet Union in 1983 to meet and bring necessities to the refuseniks. Additionally, as a committee member for the Jewish Federation of Cincinnati, Joanne chaired their Israel Program as well as the 58th General Assembly Council of Jewish Federations. Joanne represents her synagogue in Tampa in an ongoing Faith Community project of bringing hunger awareness to the community, is a past Ritual Director, Recording Secretary, Vice President and currently serves as board President. In addition to Joanne's long list of accomplishments in the Jewish community, she has distinguished herself as a community leader for TOP Jewish Foundation. Joanne embraced the importance of building the first ever legacy program, at Beth Israel Jewish Congregation of Sun City Center. Working collaboratively with TOP Jewish Foundation, Joanne educated her board on the value of creating an endowment, formed Legacy Committee, educated committee members and implemented a legacy program that will help ensure the financial future of her synagogue.

Joanne and her husband of 51 years, Sam, have two children and five grandchildren – Sadie Rose, Nathaniel, Sally, Jaden and Simon, of blessed memory.

BACK FOR ONE TIME ONLY....WORSHIP 101

Do you sometimes wonder why we do certain things in our worship services? Like: Bow at certain places but not others? Turn to face the entrance for the last verse of Lekha Dodi? Why are there some congregational responses in Reader's Kaddish? What is Kaddish, anyway? Who created our prayers? How do Reform versions of prayers differ from the traditional versions? What happens when (pooney pooney pooney) there is no minyan for a service?

And so many more....

Please make a list of your questions and bring them to Worship 101 on Wednesday, January 10. We will meet from 10 am till noon, for this one time only, and Rabbi Freedman will try to answer as many questions as possible.

Mark your calendar!! 1/10/18... from 10 am till noon.

The congregation of Beth Israel sends condolences to:

The family of Rose David, who was a long time member of our Congregation. She has been living in Virginia and is survived by four children, her grandchildren and great grandchildren.

A huge thank you to Erica Leino and Marlene Hollander and their wonderful committee (including the Men's Club) for putting together another great Hanukkah party. We had a full house to enjoy the afternoon. A special thank you to Cantor Glenn Groper and his helpers for the terrific sing-along.

The next Sisterhood meeting will be held on Tuesday, January 9th at 1pm in the Henry Gibson Social Hall. Our speaker will be Mary Berg, the Community Relations Specialist for A Kid's Place. Located in Tampa, A Kid's Place is a unique non-profit organization providing foster care and a loving home for abused, neglected or abandoned children. When you join us for the meeting please consider bringing along one of the following to donated to this amazing place: body wash, laundry detergent pods or new baby dolls or action figures. As always, refreshments will be served.

Our annual Sisterhood Shabbat will be celebrated on Friday, February 2nd at 7:30pm. If you would like to be a part of this wonderful service please let me know. There are parts in Hebrew and English and we will be doing the Torah Reading as well (thanks to the first B'not Torah class with Rabbi Carla!). Send me an e-mail at rlafer@gmail.com or call me at 938-3824 to join the service and please let me know if you prefer Hebrew or English.

If being on the bimah is not your thing, we will also be providing the Oneg that evening. All manner of goodies are welcome. Just let me know what you would like to bring along.

Mark your calendar for a very special event in February. Susan Weidman Schneider, the editor of Lilith Magazine will be joining us for a 2-day event. On Monday afternoon, February 5th we will have a lecture and coffee hour open to the public. The cost for this program will be $5 per person. Monday evening we will have a salon (like a book club using an article from Lilith Magazine) for Sisterhood members. Our regular Sisterhood meeting on Tuesday, February 6th will feature a lunch and lecture for Sisterhood members only. More information will be out soon on this amazing event.

A happy, healthy 2018 to you all.
May we go from strength to strength.

Men's Club

Jeff Beller

Happy Chanukah to all!!

We had a great turnout for our November 29th annual Paid-Up Membership Meeting. First, we unanimously elected/re-elected five members to the Men's Club Board. Our Board now consists of the following:

Jeff Beller, President

Gil Daniels, Executive VP

Ralph Shaw, VP Membership

Steve Blesofsky, VP Programming

Dick Marshall, VP At-Large

Bob Whiteman, Secretary

Bob Conti, Treasurer

Mr. Martin Fennelly, Tampa Bay Times sports columnist was the featured speaker for this event. He spoke to us about the Bucs, the growth & development of Bucs' QB Jameis Winston & many other sports-related topics. We also learned about the types of columns he writes & some of his day-to-day experiences. He was a real mensch & spent a great deal of time answering all of our questions. Lunch was provided by Beth Israel's own Betty Schare. All in all, a great afternoon!

At our most recent Board Meeting on December 6th we discussed the upcoming Membership Meeting (December 20th) & Bagels & Discovery (December 24th).

The Membership Meeting will feature Edward J. (Ed) Socha, a 96-year old resident of Sun City Center who was an eye witness to & survivor of the Japanese bombing of Pearl Harbor. Our Bagels & Discovery will welcome back Dr. Steven Derfler who will take us back to the Jewish immigrant experience & New York's Lower East Side. Two great programs in one month.

I'm kvelling!!

Shalom!

MAH JONGG CARDS FOR 2018

I am taking orders for 2018 Mah Jongg Cards. Last day to order will be January 15, 2018.

I can only take orders for cards; the league will not let me order any accessories—sorry.

All checks should be made out to BETH ISRAEL, please do not make them out to me.

PLEASE remember I need everyone's name, mailing address and card size for each person ordering a card.

If a one person in the group orders cards for everyone with one check I need each person's name & address so they get it sent directly to them. Otherwise the person sending the check will get all the cards sent to her (which is fine if that's what the group wants).

Prices are the same as last year. Also, if you purchased a card from the League yourself, or through another group last year -- I need either your ID or the email that you used.

Again -- I thank everyone -- couldn't have done it without you all.

ASK THE RABBI

QUESTION : What is the Reform Movement's position on getting a Jewish divorce before one can remarry?

ANSWER: The Reform position on this has been that a civil divorce is all that is necessary if a woman wants to remarry (see below for how this applies to a man*), and many Reform rabbis do not ask whether such a woman has obtained a get (Jewish divorce document) before they will officiate at a marriage ceremony for a divorcee.

This stems from two factors. The first is the notion that, as the Talmud says, “the law of the land is the law”. In other words, Jewish law cannot run contrary to the civil law of the land, so a civil divorce is sufficient to dissolve a marriage. Civil authorities accept rabbis and cantors as sanctioned officiants for Jewish marriages, and the filing to a marriage licence includes the signature of such an officiant, so that the marriage conforms to civil law. Therefore, a civil divorce is required to dissolve the marriage.

The second issue is that, since women cannot, according to halakha (Orthodox Jewish law) initiate divorce proceedings, and therefore some men have withheld a get as a way of controlling their ex-wives, the traditional Jewish divorce procedure is unfair to women.

In recent times, our movement has developed a get which can be initiated by either the husband or the wife (regardless of the presence of the other spouse), so that the matter of fairness is settled. This way, a woman can, without the co-operation of her former husband, issue a get, and can then be remarried. Many Reform Jews today think that a marriage that was begun with a Jewish ritual should (if necessary) be dissolved with a parallel ritual, and so they avail themselves of a contemporary get.

It is interesting to note that though other movements of Judaism may not permit women to issue a get, they now write divorce guidelines into the marriage contract (ketubah) so that both parties are protected, should the marriage founder.

I have issued a get on a couple of occasions, once to a woman and once to a man. I subscribe to the notion that a religiously initiated marriage should, when necessary, be dissolved by a religious ceremony. Just as we begin Shabbat with a ceremony of lighting candles and making Kiddush over wine, so do we end Shabbat with Havdallah, which also requires blessings over wine and candles. There is symmetry and completeness in this process.

*Jewish law does not require a man to obtain a get before he marries another time, because technically, Judaism still recognizes the legitimacy of polygamy (though, for about 1000 years now, Jews have voluntarily renounced the right to polygamy, it is still legitimate according to halakha). Since a man therefore could have as many as four wives (as our patriarch Jacob did!), he does not need to divorce one to acquire another. This has enabled some men to remarry, refuse to issue a get to their previous wife, and thereby prevent her from remarrying. This inequity is resolved in the Reform world by allowing both spouses the right to initiate a divorce.

We had a little excitement at the Temple Thursday afternoon, December 14th but classes went on! Something electrical shorted out causing a burning smell. The class had to evacuate the building and the fire department arrived.

Delyse Axinn is our chaplain and the organizer of our Misheberach List. If you know of a congregant, family member, or friend that you want on the list you need to email or call Delyse by Friday at 4 PM. Only those names that are sent to her or phoned in will be added to the list that is read on Shabbat.

Please email Delyse at axinnnd@gmail.com or call 813-633-2548.

ONEG SHABBAT

Oneg Shabbat Chairperson:

Lyn Safian (634-6013)

lynleestep@mac.com

Our thanks to those people who sponsor Onegs. Supporting an Oneg Shabbat is a mitzvah. If each member would sponsor just one Oneg a year, our calendar would be full. Please check the Oneg Shabbat list on the bulletin board and sign up to celebrate your special occasion. If you want information about sponsoring an Oneg, please contact the chairperson. The committee is willing to shop only for those members who are physically unable to shop for themselves. Thanks for your participation. Also, if you have just signed up, please call the chairperson to confirm the date.
